Fr Bob Writes:

During the first few weeks of the new year, we are always given excerpts from St Paul's first letter to the Corinthians. The community of Corinth, as Paul's letters indicate, suffered more from divisions and rivalries than any other community to which Paul wrote. The Church wants to present us with a mirror in which we can see some of the conflicts that we discover in our own parish communities. Paul will later go so far as to tell the Corinthians that they were eating and drinking a judgement on themselves for carrying their divisions into the Eucharistic celebration (1 Corinthians 11; 17-34).

Paul will reference in our second reading this Sunday a certain Apollos. He was a dynamic preacher from Alexandria in Egypt converted to Christ by Priscilla and Aquila in Ephesus. Paul will also reference Cephas, which was the Hebrew name for Peter. People in Corinth were identifying with one or another minister in an unhealthy spirit of feeling superior to converts of other ministers, ultimately getting in the way of their identifying with the whole community of Christians and leading to competition and division. Some parishes in our archdiocese are currently being merged due to shortage of priests and changing demographics. The major challenges to these mergers arise from the strong identification of people with their particular parish as compared with the broader Catholic Christian community. Today, as in Paul's time, loyalties to individuals and groups are fine unless they become the source of competition, division and resistance to seeing oneself as part of a fuller Christian community.

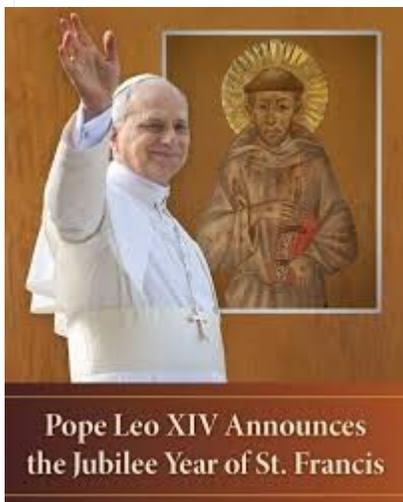

Pope Leo XIV proclaims Franciscan Jubilee Year

Taken from: <https://www.ewtnnews.com/vatican/leo-xiv-proclaims-franciscan-jubilee-year-and-grants-plenary-indulgence?redirectedfrom=cna>

On the occasion of the 800th anniversary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi in 1226, Pope Leo XIV has proclaimed a special jubilee year along with plenary indulgences.

Pope Leo XIV has proclaimed a "Special Year of St. Francis" to commemorate the 800th anniversary of the saint's death. During this time of grace, which will extend until January 2027, the faithful are granted the opportunity to obtain a plenary indulgence.

This Franciscan Jubilee Year, considered a gift for the entire Church and an occasion for authentic spiritual renewal, was inaugurated on Jan. 10 with a decree issued by the Apostolic Penitentiary of the Holy See.

Pope Leo XIV Announces
the Jubilee Year of St. Francis

Until Jan. 10 of next year, the faithful can obtain this grace under the usual conditions — sacramental confession, Communion, and prayer for the intentions of the pope — by making a pilgrimage to any Franciscan conventual church or place of worship dedicated to St. Francis anywhere in the world.

Furthermore, the elderly, the sick, and those who, for serious reasons, cannot leave their homes can obtain the plenary indulgence by spiritually joining in the jubilee celebrations and offering their prayers, pains, or sufferings to God.

Catechism Corner

Why did God create us? God created us out of free and unselfish love. When a man loves, his heart overflows. He would like to share his joy with others. He gets this from his Creator. Although God is a mystery, we can still think about him in a human way and say: Out of the "surplus" of his love he created us. He wanted to share his endless joy with us, who are creatures of his love. (YOUCAT question 2) Dig Deeper: CCC section (11-25) and other references here.

Flexible and easy to set up—helps provide predictability and reliability to the parish finances. You can start or end anytime you wish. Wish to enroll? Download form HERE and email to the office with a photo of a void cheque. You will receive a tax receipts from the parish next February.

Click HERE to be sent to the CanadaHelps.org website to make your secure donation. CanadaHelps.org will send us your donation (less 4% service fee) and they will issue you an immediate tax receipt by email.

Donate by Cash of Cheque—donations in numbered envelopes (or in an envelope with your name & address) can be dropped in the collection plate. OR cheques can be mailed to the office.

Why is it important to support the parishes financially?

Just like any other charity or non-profit organization, it costs money to keep St. Philip Parish and St. Clare Mission afloat. For example, the annual operating expenditure budget of St. Philip Parish is approximately $155,000, which goes towards paying for the following items:

- Paying for the parish priest, the parish office administrator, replacement priests to say Mass and the parish bookkeeper;
- Diocesan tax on parish revenues (donations);
- Utilities (heat, hydro, water, sewer, utilities, etc.)
- Repairs and maintenance on St. Philip Church, the Parish Hall, and other buildings and grounds;
- Office expenses; and,
- Pastoral expenses.

In addition, St. Philip Parish also spends about $10,000-$20,000 per year on major projects and renovations to replace and/or renovate the parish buildings and other items within the parish.

A Pastoral Word from your Archbishop

As your Archbishop, I am deeply aware of the questions, fears, and uncertainties that many people face when dealing with serious illness, suffering, or the end of life—whether for themselves or for someone they love. These moments touch us all, and they deserve compassion, clarity, and care.

This pamphlet is offered to help explain the difference between palliative care and Medical Assistance in Dying (MAID), using simple and respectful language. It is not meant to judge or blame, but to inform, to accompany, and to encourage thoughtful reflection. As a Church community, we believe that every person deserves to be cared for with dignity, tenderness, and hope, especially during times of vulnerability.

Understanding Palliative Care and Medical Assistance in Dying (MAID)

Palliative care is a specialized approach within the Canadian healthcare system that focuses on comfort, dignity, and quality of life for people living with a serious or life-limiting illness. It can be provided at any stage of illness and alongside other medical treatments.

A Pastoral Message

To all who are living with illness, caring for a loved one, or facing difficult decisions, please know that you are not alone. Our Church wishes to walk with you, to listen, and to support you with understanding and compassion.

May we continue to build a society where care, presence, and solidarity are at the heart of how we respond to suffering. May we never forget that dignity does not disappear with illness, and that love has the power to bring comfort even in the most challenging moments.

With my prayers and blessing,

✠ Marcel Dampousse
Archbishop of Ottawa-Cornwall

The purpose of palliative care is not to cure disease, but to relieve suffering and support the whole person—physically, emotionally, socially, and spiritually. It helps manage pain and symptoms such as shortness of breath, nausea, or anxiety, while also offering support and guidance to families and caregivers.

At its heart, palliative care reflects our shared responsibility to care for one another. It affirms that every life has value and that no one should face illness, frailty, or death alone. Through presence, listening, and practical help, palliative care offers reassurance and human connection.

Palliative care is not “giving up.” Many people in Canada receive palliative care while continuing other treatments. Its goal is to help people live as fully and comfortably as possible for as long as they live.

Palliative care can be provided in many settings: at home through home-care services, in hospitals, in long-term care homes, or in hospices when additional support is needed. Care is flexible and adapts to each person’s needs, wishes, and circumstances.

Medical Assistance in Dying (MAID), by contrast, intentionally brings life to an end. Palliative care takes a different path. It does not hasten death but walks with the person through illness with gentleness and respect, focusing on comfort, dignity, and care until natural death.

Choosing palliative care means choosing accompaniment, support, and compassion—trusting that every life remains worthy of care until the very end.
